Scope

The objective of this policy is to promote employee benefit, welfare and reward high performing talent based out of new vistas location in India (Lucknow) by providing the housing at subsidized rental for a period up to 5 years.

The Policy aims at attracting, retaining and rewarding our consistent high performing employees.

Applicability

Full-time employees in bands E0-E3 based out of Lucknow and on HCLTech India payroll:

- Based in Lucknow.
- On the HCLTech India payroll.

Specifically applicable to employees in delivery functions aligned with:

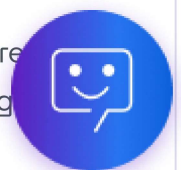

- Digital Business Services (DBS).
- Engineering and R&D Services (ERS).
- Digital Foundation Services (DFS).
- HCLTech Software.

Policy Statement

At HCLTech Housing Policy is a cornerstone document that outlines the principles and procedures governing accommodation for our esteemed workforce. In our commitment to supporting employee well-being and ensuring equitable access to housing, this policy sets forth clear guidelines that promote fairness, transparency, and compliance across all regions.

In Housing Policy

- Housing is available to eligible employees only for the duration of their employment with the Company
- Flat allotment is subject to availability
- Flat allocation is primarily determined by CAPR. In the event of a tie, seniority in NV location tenure and employee-band are taken into account. If there are not enough flats available, priority is given to NV location tenure, employee-band, and other socio-demographic factors
- Employees on career breaks are ineligible
- Invalid eligibility post-award may lead to benefit revocation. The employee must vacate within 90 days if already occupying the accommodation.
- Only one family member can avail the housing facility if two members of same family work for the Company.
- Employees are strictly prohibited from using more than one company flat. Failure to promptly report any possession of multiple flats within 3 days will result in being considered in unauthorized use of both flats.
- In the event that two employees, each residing in separate flats allocated under these regulations, marry, they are required to vacate one of the flats within one month of their marriage. Furthermore, if both spouses are employed by the company, flat allocation will be treated independently. Whichever spouse is assigned a flat first, both will jointly occupy that flat.

Back to top

- If a husband and wife are found occupying separate flats allocated before or after their marriage without disclosure, both allocations will be revoked. This will be effective from the date of marriage for previous allocations or from the date of allocation after their marriage. They will be considered in unauthorized use of the flats from those dates onward.
- Monthly /recurring charges: The allottee is required to pay the monthly/recurring charges (such as maintenance (CAM), electricity and power backup charges) on a regular basis, failing which, they will be charged penal interest at market rates. Further, if any amount due to be paid is outstanding for 3 months, the allocation will be terminated, and immediate action will be taken for eviction.
- Monthly charges must be paid promptly, covering maintenance, electricity, and backup power. Failure to do so will incur penal interest at market rates. If payments are not settled within 3 months, the allocation will be canceled, leading to eviction.
- For employees staying in shared accommodation, the monthly /recurring charges for maintenance, electricity, power backup etc. shall be split among the employees living together and paid timely through the process defined. Situations wherein one (or more) sharing member is absent for certain duration OR a new member joins in the middle of the month OR concern related to over / under usage of electricity by individual members shall be resolved amicably among the members sharing the flat. Any dispute that is not resolved among the sharing members will be escalated to the estate office and the solution proposed by estate office shall be final and acceptable to all. The repeat of such scenario or unacceptance to the solution provided will lead to termination of allocation for the member (s) and immediate action will be taken for eviction.
- For employees staying in shared accommodation, only immediate family members (parents, parents in law, siblings/ siblings in law) can stay as guest with the employee. For any such stay, written permission from Estate Office needs to be obtained.
- Rental subsidy: The rent of the HCLTech housing accommodation will be evaluated and fixed by the Estate Office and the Housing committee on a periodic basis. The rental subsidy offered by HCLTech to the eligible and qualifying employees will be INR 10000 only. The employee who has been allocated a flat will have to bear the excess rent for the accommodation.
- * Excess rent = Rent fixed by Housing committee for the Location – Rental Subsidy (INR 10,000) Monthly rent (3BHK, sharing accommodation).
- In cases where the rent share of an employee is less than INR 10,000, the employee will still have to pay a minimum amount of INR 1,000 and there will be no payout of difference amount to the employee.
- Example: If the rental for a 3BHK is fixed as INR 16500, then the share of each employee living on shared basis (total 3 employees) comes to INR 5500, however in such scenario, the employee will still have to pay INR 1,000 as the minimum monthly rental. There would be no payout of any differential amount from the subsidy of INR 10,000 to the employee.

- Monthly rent (2BHK, non-sharing accommodation): The employee who has been allocated a flat will have to bear the excess rent (if it exceeds INR 10000) for the accommodation.
- Example: If the rental for a 2BHK is fixed as INR 14000, then an employee who is living along family will bear cost INR 4000.
- Monthly rental recovery: The monthly rentals illustrated above will be recovered from employee salary each month.

Office or Housing Committee will facilitate the employee's occupancy after obtaining a signed occupation report detailing the movables, fittings, and fixtures in the flat

- The employee is responsible for maintaining the fittings, fixtures, and other articles within the premises, as well as ensuring the upkeep of the Company's buildings and premises. However, internal repair, maintenance, and upkeep expenses within the flat are the responsibility of the occupant, including repairs to water, light, gas, power, sewerage, telephone, air conditioning, sanitary installations, doors, windows, lamps, and accessories
- In the event of damage to the building, premises, or Company articles within the flat, the employee is liable for compensation as estimated by the Estate Office. This amount may be deducted from the employee's salary or settled otherwise. However, the employee may not be held responsible for damages or losses caused by accidents or circumstances beyond their control.
- If such incidents occur, the employee must report to the Estate Office within 7 days, and upon verification, a certificate will be issued. Should the employee disagree with the damage assessment, they may appeal to the Housing Committee, whose decision will be final

Vacation of house/flat

- Upon vacating the flat, whether due to intimation or other circumstances, the Estate Office or its authorized representative will conduct an inspection of the flat in the presence of the employee. A report detailing the condition of the flat will be prepared and signed by the employee or their authorized representative.
- If any shortages or damages are discovered during the inspection, which are not otherwise accounted for in the rules, they will be recorded in a report by the Estate Office or its authorized representatives. The employee will be required to sign this report.
- In the event that the employee refuses to sign the documents, the refusal will be noted under the representative's signature. In such a case, the employee or their family members will be considered to have agreed to the contents of the report.

Change of house/flats

- Ordinarily, changing flats is not permitted. However, in exceptional circumstances, the Housing Committee may, at their discretion and with written justification, approve a change of flat. Upon receiving such approval, the employee must relocate to the newly allotted flat within seven days of notification and vacate the previous flat
- This change is contingent upon availability of alternate accommodation

- Engaging in illegal or immoral activities or causing disturbance to neighbors.
- Using the flat for commercial purposes or registering it as a business address.

Any exception to the Policy needs to be approved by the Estate Office and the Housing Committee.

Consequences

Any violation of the policy such as in the event of unauthorized occupancy.

- The allocation/housing agreement will be terminated.
- Default charges will be applied, amounting to three times the normal monthly charges for up to 30 days, and five times for the remaining period. The employee must settle these charges directly, or they will be deducted from their salary.
- The Company will initiate eviction proceedings against the employee or their family under Section 630 of the Company's Act.
- Failure to clear outstanding dues within the prescribed timelines will result in the employee being liable for penalty charges and other outstanding dues, including damages and missing items. These will be deducted from the employee's salary or other payable amounts in one or more installments, as required, without further notice.

In case of Improper Use:

- Flat allocation may be revoked, requiring the employee to vacate within 7 days of notification
- If the employee fails to vacate, it will be deemed unauthorized use
- However, if the Estate Office determines the improper use occurred without the employee's knowledge or beyond their control, they may be exonerated if corrective action is taken within 10 days
